

879
5

No. 267.

The word 'Rode' is rendered in a large, highly decorative blackletter font. The letters are filled with intricate patterns, including floral and geometric designs. The 'R' is particularly large and elaborate, with a long, flowing tail that extends downwards. The 'o' and 'd' also contain detailed patterns. The 'e' is smaller and simpler. The word is flanked by decorative elements, including a small star above the 'o' and a series of small, stylized musical notes or ornaments below the 'd'. The entire word is set against a background of ornate scrollwork and floral motifs.

1^{tes} Violin-Concert.

(DAVID-HERMANN)

Neu revidiert von Fr. Hermann.